1. Object of the treatment

The Data Controller processes the personal, identifying and non-sensitive data communicated by you during registration to the Data Controller's websites and / or requesting information on the products or services offered by the Data Controller.

2. Purpose of the processing

Your personal data are processed without your express consent (Article 24 letter a, b, c Privacy Code and article 6 letter b, and GDPR), for the following Service Purposes:

- allow you to register with websites;
- manage and maintain websites;
- fulfill the pre-contractual, contractual and tax obligations deriving from existing relations with her;
- respond to requests for information on the products or services offered by the Data Controller;
- fulfill the obligations established by law, by a regulation, by community legislation or by an order of the Authority;
- archive personal data of the data of the interested parties;
- prevent or discover illicit or fraudulent activities;
- exercise the rights of the owner, for example the right to defense in court.

3. Methods of processing

The processing of your personal data is carried out by means of the operations indicated in art. 4 of the Privacy Code and art. 4 n. 2) GDPR and more precisely: collection, registration, organization, storage, consultation, processing, modification, selection, extraction, comparison, use, interconnection, blocking, communication, cancellation and destruction of data. Your personal data is processed electronically and / or automated.

The Data Controller will process personal data for the time necessary to fulfill the aforementioned purposes and in any case for 12 years from the termination of the relationship for the purposes of service

4. Access to data

Your data may be made accessible for the purposes referred to in Article

- to the Data Controller's collaborators, in their capacity as persons in charge and / or internal processing managers and / or system administrators;
- to partners or suppliers of the Data Controller (for example, for support activities in the study of the feasibility of the client's project, for technical management of services, for storage of personal data, etc.) or for third parties (for example, provider for the management and maintenance of the website, suppliers, lenders, professional offices, etc) that carry out outsourced activities on behalf of the Owner, in their capacity as external processors.

5. Communication of data

Without your express consent (pursuant to Article 24 letter a), b), d) Privacy Code and art. 6 lett. b) and c) GDPR), the Data Controller may communicate his data for the purposes referred to in art. 2 to Supervisory Bodies, Judicial Authorities and to all the other subjects to whom the communication is mandatory by law for the accomplishment of such purposes.

Your information will not be disseminated.

6. Nature of the provision of data and consequences of refusal to reply

The provision of data for the purposes referred to in art. 2 is mandatory. In their absence, we can not guarantee neither the registration to the site nor anything else provided for by the art. 2.

7. Rights of the interested party

In his capacity as an interested party, he has the rights set forth in art. 7 of the Privacy Code and art. 15 GDPR and precisely the rights of:

to. obtain confirmation of the existence or not of personal data concerning you, even if not yet registered, and their communication in an intelligible form;

b. get the indication:

- of the origin of personal data;
- of the purposes and methods of the processing;
- of the logic applied in case of treatment carried out with the aid of electronic instruments;
- of the identification details of the owner, of the managers and of the designated representative pursuant to art. 5, paragraph 2 of the Privacy Code and art. 3, paragraph 1, GDPR;
- of the subjects or categories of subjects to whom the personal data may be communicated or who can learn about them as appointed representative in the territory of the State, managers or agents;

c. get:

- updating, rectification or, when there is interest, integration of data;
- cancellation, transformation into anonymous form or blocking of data processed unlawfully, including data whose retention is unnecessary for the purposes for which the data were collected or subsequently processed;
- the attestation that the operations referred to in the two points above have been made known, also as regards their content, to those to whom the data have been communicated or disseminated, except in the case where such fulfillment proves impossible or involves the use of means that are manifestly disproportionate to the protected right;

d. to object, in whole or in part:

- for legitimate reasons, the processing of personal data concerning them, even if pertinent to the purpose of the collection;
- to the processing of personal data concerning you for the purpose of sending advertising or direct sales material or for carrying out market research or commercial communication, through the use of automated call systems without the intervention of an operator through email and / or through traditional marketing methods by telephone. It should be noted that the right of opposition of the interested party, exposed to the previous point, for direct marketing purposes through automated methods extends to the traditional ones and that in any case the possibility remains for the interested party to exercise the right of opposition even in part. Therefore, the interested party can decide to receive only communications using traditional methods or only automated communications or none of the two types of communication.

Where applicable, the interested party also has the rights set forth in articles 16-21 GDPR (Right of rectification, right to be forgotten, right of limitation of treatment, right to data portability, right of opposition), as well as the right of complaint to the Guarantor Authority.

8. How to exercise rights

The interested party may at any time exercise the rights by sending:
